MUSIC Matters! SPRING SINGING NEWS

Laura Taylor

In Kinder, students are singing songs from diverse cultures and styles, playing instruments and learning about composers from all over the world. We practice keeping the steady beat while singing our songs with different dynamics (loud/soft) and tempos (speed).

In First Grade, students are learning about rhythm (short and long sounds that change) and melody (the direction of music as it goes high or low) while singing songs and playing musical games from all over the world.

In Second Grade, students are learning how to write melodies and rhythms on music staves and how to identify different music symbols in written music. This allows them to be readers and composers of music and not just listeners. Students continue to Explore with Enthusiasm different song styles with music from around the world.

In Third Grade, students are working on their sight singing skills by increased reading of written music symbols. Students are practicing writing melodies with different rhythms and increasing their fluency of reading new song styles.

In Fourth Grade, students are identifying different music forms, creating rhythmic and melodic phrases and exploring instrument accompaniments while being introduced to more musical styles with different languages.

ALL students are learning about Texas music with a focus on Texas culture and history as well as the history and styles of blues and jazz.

I welcome your questions and comments. You may email me at ltaylor@kipphouston.org

PE Matters! SPRING NEWS

Chris Kohler

"This semester in Physical Education (PE), your child will be working on several different things. Each grade level will be learning dances they will perform during our special Go Texan Day assembly. There will be line dances, as well as partner dances.

As for the different activities and games, Kinder and First grade students will be focusing more on individual activities, and the 2nd, 3rd and 4th graders will focus more on team games and activities.

Also, your child will be building their competitive spirit as we prepare for our annual Field Day event. They will be working on their relay racing skills, so they may help their team become victorious on Field Day.

While these activities and events are happening, your child will also be focusing on meeting their end-of-year goals for Push-ups, Sit-ups, and Running. Maintaining and leading a healthy, active lifestyle is the goal for each student in PE class. "
